 - Milford would pay for the install cost and upkeep, and Scorevision would pay for the board itself

 - Waiting on final costs and dimensions (likely between $20K-$30K for installation)
 - Would not be ready for this fall (maybe by next spring)
 - Basketball has same board and made $24K this year
 - Scorevision is responsible for getting the advertisers/business – they are protected vendors that will take spots due to partnerships
 - Would include both videoboard and a hard board for non-school use (youth, etc.)
 - There are different packages available for video/hard boards
